when you feel terrible? CHARLIE: My family. WONKA: Ew. CHARLIE: What do you have against my family? WONKA: It's not just your family, it's the whole idea of (He can't spit it out.) WONKA: You know, they're always telling you what to do, what not to do, and it's not conducive to a creative atmosphere! CHARLIE: Usually they're just trying to protect you, because they love you. (Wonka reacts with disbelief and disgust.) CHARLIE: If you don't believe me, you should ask. WONKA: Ask who? My father? No way... at least not by myself. CHARLIE: You want me to go with you? WONKA: Hey, what a good idea! Yeah! And you know what? I've got transpor- (He walks into the wall of the Great Glass Elevator again.) WONKA: I have to be more careful where I park this thing. (He and Charlie take off. They arrive on a snowy hill where the house torn from Wonka's old neighborhood stands.) WONKA: I think we've got the wrong house. (He sees the plaque reading "Dr. Wilbur Wonka" and grimaces. Charlie rings the bell. Wilbur, now an old man, opens the door. He looks on his son without recognition.) WILBUR: Do you have an appointment? CHARLIE: No, but he's overdue. (Wonka, now inside, lies down on a table for Wilbur to inspect with his dental tools.) WILBUR: Open... (Wonka does.) WILBUR: Now, let's see what the damage is, shall we? (As Wilbur inspects Wonka's teeth, Charlie examines the room. It is papered with Wonka memorabilia, tokens of Wilbur's lost son.) WILBUR: Heavens, I haven't seen bicuspid like these since... since... Willy? (Wonka sits up and looks his father in the eye.) WONKA: Hi, Dad. WILBUR: All these years... and you haven't flossed. WONKA: Not once. (They hug awkwardly, both fidgeting their hands, causing their rubber gloves to squeak. The scene shifts to the Bucket home again. The grandparents are all out of bed and sitting at the dinner table.) NARRATOR: It was on this day that Willy Wonka repeated his offer to Charlie, who accepted his offer on one condition. (Wonka and Charlie enter.) CHARLIE: Sorry we were late, we were brainstorming. MR. BUCKET: Will you be staying for dinner, Willy? WONKA: Yes, please! GRANDPA JOE: I'll shuffle the plates. (Wonka sits down at the table between the grandmothers.) GRANDMA GEORGINA: You smell like peanuts... I love peanuts! WONKA: Oh, thank you! You smell like old people and soap... I like it! MRS. BUCKET: Elbows off the table, Charlie. WONKA: How do you all feel about little raspberry kites? CHARLIE: With licorice instead of string? MRS. BUCKET: Boys- no business at the dinner table. (She spoons out sweet potatoes.) CHARLIE: Sorry, mum. WONKA: I think you're onto something though, Charlie. (The camera pulls back, revealing the house inside of Wonka's factory, complete with powdered-sugar snow. The narrator is seen for the first time- he is an Oompa Loompa.) NARRATOR: In the end, Charlie Bucket won a chocolate factory, but Willy Wonka got something even better- a family. And one thing was absolutely certain... life had never been sweeter. The end.
